The gloves are well made with good quality material. And will last for many years. The stretch of the glove and the gripper strips just make it a very feasible way to do better work and keep hands warmer. I also own a pair of women's isotoner gloves and have had over 10 years. These are a Christmas gift for my friend. They are quality made and suitable for protection.

These gloves are a staple in our home. My husband has 3 pairs. Never a question about which gloves to buy when we need them.
